My first blog - Christmas 2019

Welcome all to my website and my first Blog. I have decided that my blog and blog thoughts will be a variety of messages from spirit, insights from my travels and journeys through life and humor that I hope will make your heart smile.

I am in the Christmas Spirit and love the feeling in the air as people shop at the malls and our small town main street. I love the decorations and lights and Christmas carols. There's not a bah hum bug cell in my body...LOL. I wish you all a Happy Christmas and a Merry Always!

Stay tuned for future blog posts!
